Tips for talking with your kids about VAPING

Know the facts. Learn about e-cigarettes and young people before you start the conversation with your child.

- E-cigarettes are known by many different names. They are sometimes called e-cigs, e-hookahs, mods, vape pens, vapes, tank systems, and electronic nicotine delivery systems.
- Most vaping devices contain and deliver nicotine. Nicotine can harm a teenager's developing brain and lead to addiction.
- Simply talking with your teen about these products can help protect them.

Be patient and ready to listen. Your goal is to have a conversation, not to deliver a lecture. So avoid criticism and encourage an open dialogue.

There is no "perfect time" to talk. Driving in the car together or waiting at an appointment is often the best time. You can start by mentioning a news story, a TV show, or something that you heard about vaping. Or ask your child what he or she thinks about a situation you witness together such as seeing someone use an e-cigarette, passing a vape shop when you are out, or seeing an e-cigarette advertisement.

There is no "perfect talk." Consider your talks with your child about vaping as a learning opportunity for both of you, and perhaps just the beginning of an ongoing dialogue. You may have some facts about vaping at hand, but concede that you don't know all the answers. It will go a long way to keep your kids from going on the defensive.

Ask what your child thinks. Show some genuine curiosity. Ask your child, "What's your take on vaping?" or "Do you know kids who use e-cigarettes?"

Be open and honest. Be truthful about what you know about the dangers of vaping, and what you don't. You can honestly say, though, "Vaping isn't harmless. I hope you can steer clear of it."

You can't always control everything your children do when they're not with you. Talking with your kids about vaping will let them know that you're concerned about their health.

Excerpted from Talk with Your Teen About E-cigarettes: A Tip Sheet for Parents from E-Cigarette Use Among Youth and Young Adults: A Report of the Surgeon General and other content taken from How to Talk to Your Kids about Vaping, New York Times, February 2, 2018.

The New Look of NICOTINE ADDICTION

Did you know?

In 2017, 20% of Massachusetts high school students reported currently using e-cigarettes, and nearly half tried them at least once. More high school students used e-cigarettes than all other tobacco products combined, AND they used them six times more often than adults.

Current* Use of Tobacco Products by Massachusetts High School Students, 2017

Product	Percentage
Cigarettes	6.4%
Conventional Tobacco Products†	11.4%
E-Cigs	20.1%

E-Cigarette Use Among Massachusetts High School Students and Adults, 2017

Category	Current* Use of E-Cigs	Ever Use of E-Cigs
High School Students	20.1%	41.1%
Adults	3.3%	17.9%

* Use in the past 30 days.
† Conventional tobacco is defined as cigarettes, cigars (including little cigars and cigarillos), and smokeless tobacco (such as chewing tobacco, snuff, or dip).

Vapes and e-cigarettes contain nicotine and other harmful chemicals.

The tobacco and vaping industries make their products:

- Sweet: Vapes and e-cigarettes come in thousands of different flavors. Flavors are the leading reason that youth are using e-cigarettes.
- Cheap: Products are cheaply priced to encourage impulse buys by young people.
- Easy to Get: These products are at gas stations, corner stores, mini-marts, and many more types of stores.

Talk with your kids!

Talk with your teens about vaping and make sure they know it's harmful. Nicotine can damage a teenager's developing brain and lead to addiction. The earlier they start, the harder it is to quit.

Addressing Hate & Bias In School Athletics Call to Action:

April 5, 2022

YOU'RE INVITED

ADDRESSING HATE & BIAS IN SCHOOL ATHLETICS: A CALL TO ACTION

Tuesday, April 5th | 9:00AM – 10:00AM | Zoom Webinar

Sports can be a powerful force to help people come together around a common interest or goal, display leadership in equity and inclusion, and set a tone for schools and communities of mutual respect and encouragement. But over the last few months, we've seen an increasing number of incidents in schools and on athletic fields that have been driven by hate and bias. This call to action is for school administrators, athletic directors, and coaches from across the state to come together with a shared commitment to addressing these issues. Join us in making this commitment and to hear about resources and additional programming to help ensure that you have the tools you need to prevent and address hate and bias incidents in school sports and school communities.
