National Credential

The NFHS Learning Center offers national credentials for professionals within performing arts programs that helps you gain knowledge you can use to provide a fun, educational, and a safer environment for your students. National credentials are for individuals who are actively involved in performing arts programs at the interscholastic level. The goal of credentials is to better serve students, the school, the community, and performing arts programs across the country.

COMPOSER DIVERSITY

Proportion of works by women of color, white women, men of color, and white men in the Combined NFHS State Repertoire List (Band)

Fig. 1: A treemap representation of composer demographics within the Combined NFHS State Repertoire List in the Band category. Out of 23,764 works, 48 were by a woman of color, 964 by men of color, 796 by white women, and 21,338 by white men. Any composers that we could not identify through existing resources were coded as “Unknown” in our data.

Comparison of total works, unique titles, and unique composers between white male composers, women composers, and composers of color

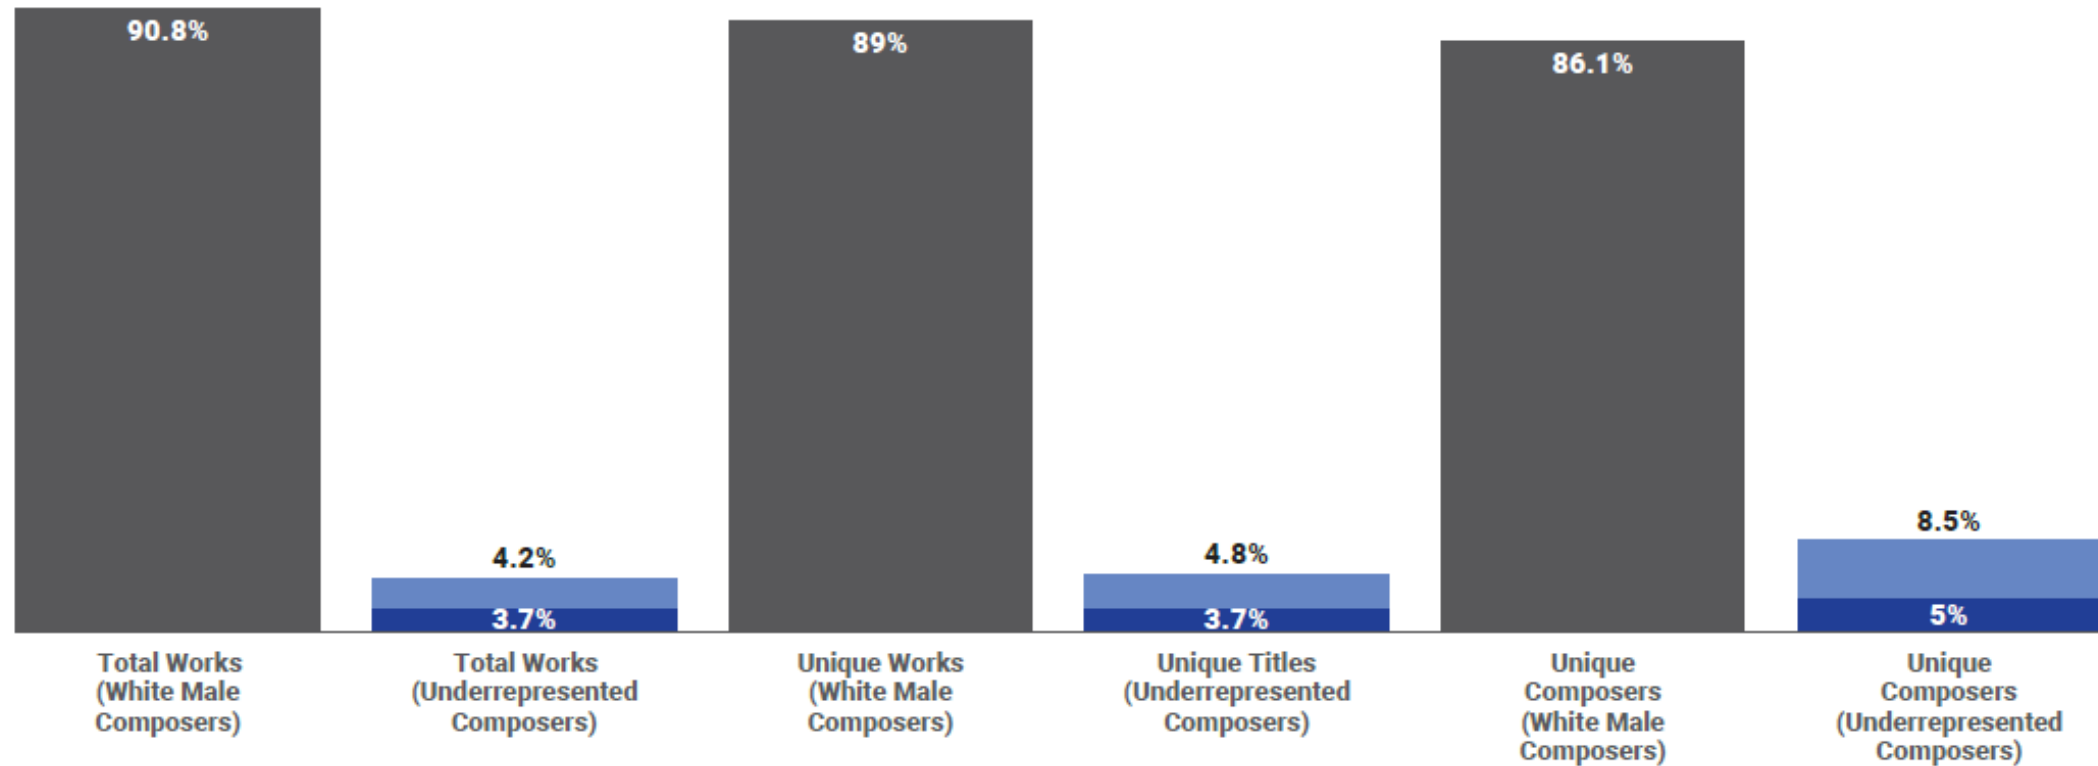

Fig. 8: A comparison of of total works, unique titles, and unique composers between various demographic groups. A total of 27,446 works were found in the NFHS State Band Repertoire Lists with 15,528 unique titles and 1645 unique composers. Only 215 of those composers were from underrepresented groups comprising 83 women composers and 139 composers of color.

The NFHS advocates for all performing arts activities that students have the privilege of participating in throughout their educational experience. Students in music, speech, debate, and theatre learn to manage their time, think creatively, and solve problems, all while working together with others. The discipline, hard work, and persistence that it takes to be a part of any performing arts activity teaches lessons that students will carry for the rest of their lives.
